Re: FAR Case 2001-014

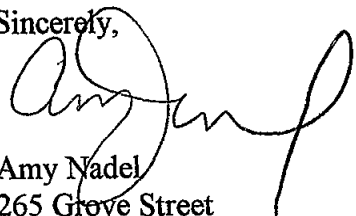

Dear Ms. Duarte,

I am self-employed, in no fashion connected with unions or government contracts. Yet, as a concerned citizen, I request- in the name of fairness and honesty- that the recently-imposed federal rules which make it harder for corporate lawbreakers to win federal contracts, not be repealed. Years of thoughtful study, preparation, and careful regulation should not be so easily swept aside.

It is inappropriate and unjust that my tax dollars be used in any way to support companies which will then be prosecuted (with more of my tax dollars). Above and beyond this financial absurdity, I abhor awarding contracts to companies that are caught abusing workers and the environment; and the laws designed to protect them.

Again, I urge President Bush not to repeal the above-referenced federal rules.

Sincerely,

Amy Nadel
